The Mormons Still Hopeful of Attaining Their Place.

The Mormons Still Hopeful.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 6.—At the Mormon conference yesterday George Q. Cannon spoke of the lofty conceptions of the saints, especially regarding the future State. He believed the brethren in the penitentiary would be more prosperous when they got out than if they had not been in, because they could say they had not broken any of the covenants they made. He thanked God he lived among such people as those who were not ashamed of the consequences and took punishment like heroes. The time was coming when this conduct of the Latter Day Saints would stand out as the brightest page in modern history.
Their sufferings would be acceptable to the Lord. Cannon further said the saints would obey the laws and bow in submission to the nation's will and leave the consequences with the Lord.
He told them that the people were not worried about 1891; that Christ would not come then.

In the afternoon President Woodruff spoke; he said the Lord was about to prune his vineyard for the last time; that en route the sprouts would fall like grain before the mower.

Our French Visitors.

New York, Oct. 6.—Compte de Paris and party left this morning for Philadelphia. The Comte expresses himself delighted with his cordial reception here. The first stop will be at Trenton, where the Comte will visit the tomb of General M. C. C. A.
At Woodbury, near George W.
Childs will entertain the party at luncheon. They will also be entertained by the Mayor and other officials of Philadelphia.

In the evening the Loyal Legion of Philadelphia will give a reception to the party.
It is the intention of the Comte while visiting the old battle fields in the South to visit the manufacturing districts to collect data for a book upon the condition of the mechanical classes of this country.

Killing All He Can.

TUCSON (Ariz.), Oct. 6.—Information was received this morning that the Kid in the mountains near Fort Thomas shot a young White Mountain Apache.
He said the whites and Indians had killed all his friends and he would kill everybody he met. An unconfirmed telegram from San Carlos states that six scouts were killed by Kid.

A Collision Feared.

DUBLIN, Oct. 6.—A hundred hussars and 350 extra policemen have arrived at Clonmel. It is believed their presence is due to fears of a collision between the Berkshire and the Eighteenth Regiments, both of which are quartered in the town.

Carmen's Strike.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 6.—Fifteen hundred carmen have struck for higher wages and shorter hours.

The Mormon Situation.

By Cable and Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 6.—Lines Countre of Grove City, Pa., who recently arrived from Salt Lake City, where she has been doing missionary work, to-day submitted a statement to General James R. O'Brien, Superintendent of Immigration, with a view of finding those interested in stopping the immigration of Mormon converts to this country. She says that, having been a resident of Salt Lake City two years, and during that time having made a study of the Mormon people, she desires to aid in suppressing the traffic now going on with ignorant, unsuspicious foreigners by the Mormons.
The Mormon Church, she said, pays for the passage of converts to this country, and then pays their railroad fare to Salt Lake City. From her experience she says she knows this to be a fact. The ignorant converts come to Salt Lake City, filled with promises of a life of ease and luxury, and with the idea that the church will aid in their support. Instead of this, they are housed like animals in miserable little adobe houses, and upon the cringing labor of converts the Mormon Church flourishes. They have to pay one-tenth of all they possess and one-tenth of all they earn to support the Church. Many Mormon settlements use sagebrush for fuel, and have to subsist principally on fish, which they dry and keep for food in winter.

"How they do manage is a mystery to all," said Miss Countre. "Why Mormon elders bring over so many young, ignorant girls is only too well known to those of us who have cared to investigate the matter. These girls have no voice in the matter of their disposal, and they soon learn they are to be the 'spiritual wives' to some of the basest creatures the church produces. Oh how earnestly they wish they were again in their own land and away from the clutches of these Mormon tyrants, but they have very little hope when once in their clutches. Why not stop them in New York before they have become imbued with vice and are beyond our power to help."

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Ten attachment suits for amounts ranging from $2,000 to $25,000 were commenced this morning against the Eureka Silk Manu-Irish Missionaries.

DUBLIN, Oct. 6.—A conference of Irish Nationalists, called by Parnell, was held to-day. A part of the business was the selection of a deputation to visit America to lay before the people of that country the plain statement of the situation of affairs in Ireland. John Dillon, William O'Brien, Thomas Power, O'Connor, Timothy Sullivan and Abram Gill were appointed.

The proceedings of the convention were conducted in private. There was a very large attendance of the most prominent Nationalists. Justice Mc-Car moved the adoption of four resolutions, all of which had been previously submitted to Parnell.

The first pledges the fullest support of the National League to the tenants threatened with ruin in consequence of the course adopted by the Government's landlord syndicates.

The second demands that certain districts in the southern and western parts of Ireland be given special consideration by the Government, and that measures be taken at once for the relief of the inhabitants.

The Government is called upon to inaugurate a series of public improvements for the purpose of giving employment to the people, thus enabling them to support themselves without charitable assistance.

The third condemns in emphatic terms the action of the Government in causing the arrest of O'Brien, Dillon and other Nationalist leaders.
The fourth says the Nationalist party is compelled by circumstances to make an appeal to its friends everywhere in behalf of Irish tenants, and looks especially to its friends in America for aid.

Tin Plate Plant.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The morning papers say it is definitely asserted that plans for the establishment of an extensive tin-plate manufactory in Chicago have been formed. For more than a year past such an enterprise has been considered, but since the introduction of the McKinley bill with its tax on tin plate, which practically prohibits its importation into this country in the face of any competition, the plan has assumed a definite shape.
The passage of the bill settled all questions, and the last doubt was removed. The concern will be capitalized for $4,500,000 and give employment to 3,500 men. Tin ore will be got from the Black Hills and North Carolina. Armour, Swift and other large packers of canned meats are said to be among the promoters.

A Railroad Decision.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—In the case of Morris K. Jessup against the Illinois Central Railroad, the Dubuque & Sioux City Railroad and the Cedar Falls & Minnesota Railroad, under a bill filed in the United States Circuit Court, an opinion was filed by Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court this morning, holding that, while the Illinois Central is not liable for rent, the lease between the Dubuque & Sioux City Railway and the Cedar Falls Railway is good and valid, and that under it the Dubuque road was liable to Morris K. Jessup, trustee for the bondholders of the Cedar Falls road, for the accrued rent now due, which has been deposited in the registry of the Court amounting to over $300,000.

The Irish Nationalists.

DUBLIN, Oct. 6.—The Magistrates Court at Tipperary, before which the cases of Dillon, O'Brien and others are being tried, reconvened this morning.
Their counsel, Redmond and Timothy Healy, were absent, consequent on an important engagement elsewhere.
On behalf of O'Mahoney, Dillon produced certificates from two doctors stating that he is seriously ill, and that it was impossible for him to attend the trial.

Ronan, prosecutor for the Crown, objected to the certificates, and insisted that the doctors be summoned to testify as to the patient's condition.

Dillon said the doctors' certificates would have to be accepted as evidence, for the doctors themselves distinctly refused to come to Court to substantiate the statements they had already made.

Ronan asked the Court to adjourn for an hour to enable the Crown to decide whether the charge against O'Mahoney be withdrawn or an application made for a warrant for his arrest. The request was granted.

Upon the re-assembling of the court, Ronan stated the prosecution had telegraphed two doctors in Clonmel to examine O'Mahoney and had sent a third from Tipperary to examine the defendant. He expected the doctors would appear in court later and testify as to O'Mahoney's condition, and he therefore asked the court to take a further adjournment.

Ronan said that O'Mahoney, through his solicitors, had placed the court at defiance.

Dillon declared Mr. Ronan's statement untrue. He had done his best to procure the attendance of O'Mahoney's doctors in court.

O'Brien said the defendants had a right to complain against the course of the prosecution; that Ronan's remarks were addressed to the audience in England and were designed to injure the defendants.

A scene of confusion ensued. Ronan repeated his remarks again and again, and Dillon loudly denounced them.
The defendants in the meantime protested against the charges made by the prosecutor.

When order was again partially restored, Dillon warmly protested against the Court taking any further adjournment. He maintained that in justice no warrant could be issued for the arrest of O'Mahoney until the Court had heard the testimony of his doctors.

Another heated wrangle then took place and Dillon. The Court, in response to Ronan's request, and a further adjournment was taken. The action of the defendants, who are out on bail, will likely result in their commitment to the Clonmel jail for contempt of Court.

The Boss Rule.

The indications are that Washoe's ring has got to take a back seat, for the people are fully alive to the fact that they have had their own way too long already. Every two years the same old gang crop up and dictate the policy of politics, and they do not care a whit who suffers so long as they accomplish their ends. The GAZETTE has labored long and faithfully to break up and put an end to the jobbery that has been practiced for years, and of which taxpayers have known about, but had sooner submit to the wrong than make a fuss.

The GAZETTE has made the fuss and we stand by our record, and Washoe political bosses have got to step down and out. We do not wish to be understood as trying in any way to dictate to the people who they shall elect or who they shall not, but in the interest of good government we most emphatically protest against the boss rule. Let the people have a word to say and we will get better men in office and have better and more economical government than if matters are run in the interest of a chosen few.

To-morrow the Republicans meet in convention to select for us a set of officers, who will be entrusted with the county's affairs for the next two years, and let them see to it that none but first-class men are chosen; men who have character and ability. Lay aside all sentiment and make your selection with the same care that would prompt you if selecting a man to manage your private affairs.

We have such men in our midst without going to Europe or White Pine for them. Do not be wheedled into supporting a man who has a lot of dull tools that want sharpening, simply because he thinks he can put a better edge on them on Washoe's grindstone than he can on his own. In other words, do not select a man to represent you who has outlived his usefulness in the service of your expense.

This State has been run in the interest of "the gang" so long, that it seems hard to break away, but for 25 years we have been going down hill, and it is high time that the people should have something to say. The coming session of the Legislature will be the most important that has ever been convened in this State, and something besides trickery and jobbery will have to be resorted to if we ever expect to get out of the slough of despond. So we say select men to represent you who have character as well as ability; men who will go to Carson in the interest of the whole State and pass good, wholesome laws in the interest of economy, rather than personal aggrandizement; men who will labor well and faithfully to pass such laws as are best calculated to lift us out of the rut into which the boss rule has lowered us.

We have legislation to enact touching the reclamation of our arid wastes that require an honesty of purpose that tricksters are not possessed of, so look well to it and send such men to the Legislature. The same may be said of every officer to be chosen, so do not make any mistakes.

When it became known to the people that the "ring" was at its old tricks and had candidates for all the important offices, some of them men of a very offensive character, there was an uprising which led to an organized opposition that promises to utterly defeat their nefarious schemes. The contest has been perfectly open and above board on our side, while it has been conducted by the ring in the usual underhanded manner. What the motive is for such earnest persistency just at this time no one seems to know, but the people can be sure it is not for their good.

The trade has already been made, but the goods are not yet delivered. Let the candidates and their friends get together and see to it that the job is nipped in the bud, at least, as far as possible. Our advice to all candidates is that if M. D. Foley is nominated for Senator to decline to go on the ticket. You will be wasting your time, energy and money, for you will surely be traded off if you do.

The Facts.

The Chloride Belt, a paper published in Candelaria, accuses the GAZETTE of misleading the public as to the letter we received from the Assessor of Esmeralda county regarding Mr. Colcord's assessment. The Silver State eagerly grasps the opportunity of copying the article for no other purpose than to vent its spite on the GAZETTE. We do not expect anything better from the Chloride Belt, for it has no reputation to lose, but we did expect better things of the Silver State, for that paper lays claim to being honest, and, perhaps, it is as fair minded as a Democratic journal can be. The letter we received from the Assessor in question is given in full herewith:

ASSESSOR'S OFFICE,
ESMERALDA COUNTY, NEVADA, (JERRY QUINN, ASSESSOR)
HAWTHORNE, Nev., Sept. 23, 1890.
A. C. BRAGG—Dear Sir: Replying to your favor of the 20th inst., I would state that R. C. Colcord is assessed in this county for $1,200, as follows: Household goods and furniture, $400; piano, $200; watches and jewelry, $500; two cows, $50; one saddle horse, $40. Total, $1,200. Yours truly, JERRY QUINN,
Assessor Esmeralda County.

We also stated that Mr. Colcord was a large stockholder in the Esmeralda Limited and Humboldt Electric Power and Mining Company properties. As is usual, the Democratic press measures a candidate's worth by the length of his purse, and it seems to be greatly grieved because Mr. Colcord is poor. But, thank God, poverty is no disgrace when coupled with brains and honesty of purpose. That is all that Mr. Colcord's opponents have been able to bring up against him after an almost continuous residence of nearly a quarter of a century in this State.

Will some of our Democratic contemporaries point out to us where the Hon. G. W. Cassidy's record while in Congress is any better than that made by the Hon. H. F. Bartine. Mr. Bartine went as a raw recruit from the ranks of the people, without legislative experience, but with ability and an honesty of purpose that was sure to be recognized. The GAZETTE has been as pronounced in pointing out what few mistakes he has made as any paper in the State, and shall continue to call attention to any he may make in the future. A perfect man is yet to be found, but Mr. Bartine comes as near one as any representative we ever had in Congress.

The Pistol Route.
On Monday of last week Almond Huntton committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. Deceased was a well known citizen of MORENO. The Chronicle Union says he had been sick and despondent for many years and the manner of his death was not wholly unexpected. He killed himself in his brother's barn.

HEIRS TO MILLIONS.

The Good Luck of an Honest, Hard-Working Hoosier Family.
It is not often that one who has worked all his life on a farm comes into possession of $4,000,000 in a day, and yet such an event is soon to happen to a family living at Sunman, in this State, writes a Lawrenceburg (Ind.) correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette. In 1776 Mary Bentley, of New York City, leased a tract of land there to the Government for ninety-nine years. The land was on the outskirts of the city, but as years rolled by and the city began its marvelous growth the tract was surrounded by colossal palaces of trade and mansions.

The Government, seeing a chance to profit, subleased the ground to many different persons, and it has been built on and improved, and lying in the heart of the city its immense value can easily be understood. In 1875 the lease expired, and no one appearing to claim the property a legal fight of immense proportions was begun between the sub-lessees and the Government, prominent among the former being the heirs of the old Cornelius Vanderbilt. The Government was successful and gained possession of the property, and at the same time the heirs of the original lessor began to assert their rights, and after another legal battle they were sustained and the property held for them. After years of hunting for the unknown heirs they have all been found, and the property ordered sold and the money distributed. The Boldrey family, of Sunman, of whom there are five, are among these heirs. Mary Bentley being their great-grandmother, and they have been notified by their attorney in New York City that the distribution will soon be made, and that their share will be $4,000,000 apiece. As they are all good, honest, hard-working citizens, their good luck will be appreciated by all who know them.

PAINTERS AND PAINTINGS.

The Queen has invited Herr Swoboda, the Austrian artist, and his sister, who is also an artist, to visit Windsor Castle for the purpose of painting portraits for the members of the royal family. JOHN SARGENT, the American portrait painter, who lives most of the time in London, has picked up as high as $50,000 in four months at his profession. He is the only American artist who can command $5,000 for a portrait. The principal picture galleries of Europe are ranked according to the number of pictures they contain: 1, Versailles; 2, Dresden; 3, Madrid; 4, Louvre; 5, London; 6, St. Petersburg; 7, Berlin; 8, Vienna; 9, Munich; 10, Florence; 11, Naples; 12, Venice; 13, Antwerp; 14, Turin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Steady Progress

Has characterized Hood's Sarsaparilla ever since it was placed before the public. Wherever introduced, its sales have grown from year to year, until now it is the most popular and most successful medicine offered. Any druggist will confirm this statement. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a medicine of merit. It does actually accomplish all that is claimed for it, and when given a fair trial, is reasonably certain to be of benefit.

Positive Statements.
"Since Hood's Sarsaparilla has been in my hands for sale I have had frequent and unreserved testimonials in its favor. Although copying this presentation for less than one year, my sales have been greater than of any similar preparation, and the testimonials in its favor are at once positive and personally noticeable." A. WAGNER, Hallsburg, Cal.

Sells on Its Merits.
"My boys say, 'Papa, why don't you buy more of Hood's Sarsaparilla at a time; we are always short.' It sells on its own merits." F. BALL, Portland, Oregon; the oldest druggist in Oregon.

A Ripe Old Age.

S. H. Holcomb and wife, of Belcher, Texas, have celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary and are still hale and hearty. The secret of their long life and good health is that they correct any slight ailment promptly, and in that way avoid serious sickness. Like most of every one else, they are more frequently troubled with constipation than any other physical disorder. To correct this they take St. Patrick's pills in preference of any other because, as Mr. Holcomb says, "They are a mild pill and, besides, keep the whole system in good order. We prize them very highly." For sale by Shoemaker & Co., druggists.

After applying one to my chest and one to my back, in three hours I found relief which I had not got for over three months. I cheerfully recommend them to persons having spinal weakness and lung trouble."

We guarantee the Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in will bring you good digestion, and out Dyspepsia, and induce instant Eupespy. There may be persons in this community who are at times troubled with colic, or subject to attacks of bowel complaint. If so, they should try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. NEWLANDS' BOOK.

Suggestions as to a General Plan

For the Irrigation and Reclamation of the Arid Lands of Nevada.

In order to give the GAZETTE readers a better idea of what Francis G. Newlands has done and is doing in the way of irrigation, we propose to republish his pamphlet in the GAZETTE, running a column or more each day, until it has been reproduced in its entirety.

To the People of Nevada: The time has come when we should fully take into the fact that Nevada is for the most part an arid region, incapable of agricultural production except by the aid of irrigation. It is important, therefore, to secure the adoption of such a policy on the part of the State as will place her in the foremost rank of that march towards agricultural prosperity in which the great commonwealths of the Far West and Pacific slope have all joined.

During the past few years we have been led to hope that the General Government would take up the irrigation cause in earnest and materially advance the agricultural interests throughout the arid regions. First it was thought that the Government would construct works for the reclamation of its desert lands, so many thousands acres of which lie within Nevada; but soon it became apparent that this policy would not prevail. Then it was thought that a thorough system of investigation as to the hydraulic and engineering problems of irrigation would be carried to rapid completion by Congressional aid, and that the results of this inquiry would be promptly before our people, so that they might be used either by the State, or districts, or counties, or private individuals or corporations in the development of irrigation enterprises. But now it seems that we are not to have even this guiding and encouraging co-operation. We must rely upon ourselves, and the questions arise, Shall the arid lands of Nevada remain waste, or shall they be irrigated and populated? And if the latter, shall this be effected by direct or indirect State action, by districts, by counties, or by private enterprise?

It is for the purpose of bringing these questions prominently before the people of this State that I venture, in a crude way, to lay before them what information as I have been able to collect on the subject of irrigation, water supply and lands in Nevada.

I have thus far only been able to make a cursory and incomplete survey of the Truckee and Carson rivers, and to them I have collected considerable data, the result of personal inquiry and observation, as well as of numerous surveys and reconnaissances conducted under my direction.

The waters of the Truckee and Carson have been used in irrigation for over twenty years. Within the past three or four seasons the conclusion has been forced upon the irrigators and others interested in the water supply that the limit of agricultural development by the methods, and with the works and appliances used and at hand, has about been reached. It is true that the heavy fall of snow during the past winter has afforded an abundant supply of water throughout the State, and the natural tendency in periods of abundance is to relax effort; but experience teaches us that we may expect a recurrence of drought at any time, and the sad consequence of crop failures and pecuniary distress, unless an effort be made to secure a continuous and equal flow of water in our streams by retaining at their sources and letting out gradually, as season requires, the waters which now rush with the flood to the sink of the desert and there lie untutilized.

Our land is to be developed, our population increased and our prosperity augmented by the saving and economical distribution of the waters which annually run to waste. Storage in the natural lake basins of our adjacent mountain ranges, and in mountain valleys converted into artificial reservoirs by the erection of dams, must be the chief means whereby we can effect these ends.

In all estimates for water supply it must be remembered that the streams in Nevada furnish an abundant amount of water to irrigate a first crop of alfalfa and a full crop of wheat or timothy. The stored water is to be devoted entirely to securing a second and third crop of alfalfa and to perfecting the growth of the potato, cabbage and other vegetables, and the fruit crop. No stored water need be touched before the middle of June.

Experience has also shown that an excellent system of storage is that effected by the practice of irrigation itself over broad, permeable areas. The ground in time becomes saturated and the surplus water gradually finds its way by seepage and drainage back into the streams, thereby rendering them perennial in flow where formerly they were periodical torrents. I hope and believe that we may look to very material aid in water conservation by this means also.

It is to be observed that the method employed in this State for taking water out of the rivers is very crude and unsatisfactory. Dams, main canals and distributing ditches have been multiplied by the desire of every landowner, or of a few landowners associated together, to control the entire system of supply, whereas a scientific system of distribution would only require a single dam and a large main canal, with distributing ditches, to control an area now covered by many such canals and dams. By the present method the expense of maintenance is increased and a great loss of water results through evaporation and seepage. Irrigation, like architecture, requires a broad and comprehensive plan, accompanied by specifications of the minutest detail, before construction should be commenced, and the expense of the plan is simply recompensed by subsequent economy in construction. It is believed that by remodeling our present system of irrigation according to some intelligent and scientific plan much of the present loss by evaporation will be stayed and greater economy in the use of water secured. If this is done the area of irrigation cultivation can be largely increased apart from the construction of storage reservoirs.

The two rivers of which, as I have said, we have the most information, present a strong contrast in the problems presented. The basin of the Truckee is peculiarly favorable for the storage of water in natural lakes and valleys, but the diversion of water from the river channel and delivery to lands other than those already irrigated is likely to be expensive, because the land to be irrigated are in valleys very much higher in altitude than the lands now irrigated in the Truckee meadows, thus necessitating long and expensive canals which must take their supply much further up the river.

On the other hand, so far as we know, the opportunities for storage of water within the basin of the Carson are not so favorable, but the diversion and delivery are peculiarly simple, because the lands to be irrigated lie nearer to the level of the river. By comparison, the storage of the waters of the Truckee will be inexpensive and the future diversion and delivery costly, while on the Carson the storage will be costly and the diversion and delivery inexpensive. But the Carson is more than twice as long as its neighbor, and in consequence of time its waters, let us hope, will be used over and over again, the irrigated lands in the upper valleys giving out their surplus moisture to keep up the river supply for those below. Yet although the Carson heads in a very high part of the main range of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, the vast snow-belt, which never entirely disappears, forms a cold storage system of importance, the limit of irrigation has been reached in its valley unless we immediately turn our attention to its expansion by the construction of storage reservoirs. (To be continued.)

Extra Liabilities to Malarial Infection. Persons whose blood is thin, digestion weak and liver sluggish, are extra liable to the attacks of malarial disease. The most trifling exposure may, under such conditions, infect a system which, if healthy, would resist the malarial taint.

The only way to secure immunity from malaria in localities where it is prevalent, is to tone and regulate the system by improving weakened digestion, and giving a wholesome impetus to biliary secretion. These results are accomplished by nothing so effective as Stomach Bitters, which long experience has proved to be the most reliable safeguard against fever and malarial disorders, as well as the best remedy for them. The Bitters are, moreover, an excellent purgative of organs of urination and an active depurative, eliminating from the blood those acid impurities which originate rheumatic ailments.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

A City Lady Who Required Proof Before Believing.

There recently appeared in the San Francisco Oil, Chronic, and Examiner, a proposition hitherto unheard of. It was an advertisement in which the Edwin W. Joy Company, in proof of the curative properties of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, offered to submit it to the terrific test of "no cure no pay." Many accepted, and their experiences are so convincing as to be almost beyond belief. Here is another, written under date January 6, 1890:—

DEAR SIR: I accepted your offer to test the merits of your vegetable remedy in sick and healthy children. I had been troubled for a long time, and had tried nearly everything, with little or no effect, but Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla acted almost like magic, and the first bottle relieved me from one of the worst cases of sick headache one ever had.

MRS. M. B. PRICE, 16 Prospect Place, San Francisco. We will from time to time publish others of these letters. It is doubtful if any remedy was ever before submitted to such a severe ordeal.

A Michigan Central Railroad Employee Wins His Case After Seven Years Contest.

While employed as agent of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, at Arcata, Mich., my kidneys became diseased, and from an impoverished and impure state of the blood, my general health was entirely undermined. I consulted the leading physicians of this city and Ann Arbor, and all pronounced my case Bright's disease. In October last I began taking Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, and on to-day a well man, I am able to perform my duties, and suffering humanity my good that I can, and I wish to say that I think it is the best kidney and liver medicine in the world.

E. LAZELLE, agent M. C. R. R., Albion, Mich. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson. Prepared only by the Wright Medicine Company, Detroit, Mich.

A Cure for Sick Headache.

This distressing complaint is due to an inactive or sluggish liver with constipated bowels which derange the stomach and disturb the nervous system, causes dizziness and an oppressive dull pain in the head, often so severe as to prevent all rest or sleep. One of Dr. Gunn's Improved Pills, my kidneys receive you of all the pain and misery and a few more doses will correct the liver and stomach and regulate the bowels. While these pills are small, easily taken, and mild and gentle in their action there is no medicine made that will so effectively cure sick headache. 25 cents a box. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

For rheumatic and neuralgic pains, rub in Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, and take Dr. J. H. McLean's Sarsaparilla. You will not suffer long, but will be gratified with a speedy and effective cure.

We find St. Patrick's Pills to be very extra and to give splendid satisfaction. They are now about the only kind called for.—W. A. WALLACE, Olan, Ia. For sale by Shoemaker & Co., druggist.
